

Lori Dunn

Fractional Executive | Speaker
Strategic Advisor

Lori is the strategic partner executives bring in when the stakes are too high for guesswork. Her clients don't find her by accident.

They find her when they're finally ready.

As a fractional executive, advisor, and speaker, Lori brings real-world insight to the challenges of scaling modern organizations, helping leaders turn vision into sustainable growth.

She sees what others miss. The gaps that tank startups, the missteps that derail scaling companies. And she doesn't just name them, she fixes them. No wasted motion. Just clarity that moves. Her experience spans venture-backed tech firms, Fortune 100 brands, and government innovators, with expertise across AI, enterprise software, and impact-driven technology. Lori holds dual master's degrees from Brandeis University and is a Returned Peace Corps Volunteer. When you find Lori Dunn, you'll wonder how you ever ran an event without her.
